Project Title: Capybara Website

I would like the website to be multiple pages rather than one, long page, as fitting all the information on a single page would be too lengthy and information-dense. Site navigation could be a typical navbar on the top, a side menu, or whatever works best. Almost all of the topics can be found on the wikipedia page.

- Home Page / Introduction - images and a short summary/introduction to capybaras (which might include size, diet, habitat, lifespan, ec). Could also include fun facts

- Description -
  - Physical Description - stats, height, weight, etc
  - Classification and phylogeny - relatives, animal group, etc
- Ecology-
  - Diet and Predation - description of their diet and natural predators
  - Habitat - more information and imagery on where they're found in the world
- Social Organization - a description of their social behaviors
  - Reproduction
  - Activities
- Conservation and Human Interaction - could mention capybaras as pets, capybara cafes, etc
- Popularity and Meme Culture -explain capybara's significance in meme culture and where their recent popularity arose from (examples welcomed).
